FURIOUS STORM AT ST. LOUIS

NORTH PORTION OF CITY STRUCK BY TORNADO

Results in Death of One Man, Injury of Fifty Persons and Damages Property to Extent of $100,000—Illinois Suffers.

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—A tornado of small proportions but extreme fury swept the residence portion of north St. Louis today, resulting in the death of John Ellington, injury of fifty persons and damage to property of $100,000. Most of the injured suffered cuts and bruises, but several sustained fractured limbs. A shower passed over St. Louis early in the day, but there was no rain in north St. Louis. The sky had cleared and the atmosphere become murky and hot, when citizens of north St. Louis noticed a dark cloud approaching from the southwest. An arm seemed to shoot to the ground like a gigantic cable at Nineteenth and Angelrodt streets and with swiftness swept along Angelrodt ten blocks, turned north and swept three blocks along Broadway, jumped eight blocks northeast to Breman street and the river. Considerable property along the river was destroyed. It jumped toward the middle of the river and tossed a ferryboat about. The tornado then jumped to the Illinois bank near Madison, where it demolished several dwellings, Leiderkranz hall and blew down a portion of the Madison cooper works, killing Ellington.

Severe damage was done also to buildings in Venice and Granite City, Ill., and several persons were injured.

In the stillness that followed the wind cries were heard on all sides as frightened persons ran about the streets. Not a telegraph, telephone or trolley pole was left standing along the streets swept by the wind and trees were piled in heaps. The width of the tornado was about a block and a half. Houses were unroofed, window panes demolished, several large manufactures partly demolished and the streets littered with debris.

A Broadway car containing eleven passengers was buried under six poles, wrecking the car. The motorman was slightly bruised, but the passengers escaped.

Probably the heaviest loss suffered by a single concern was destruction at the Neideringhaus rolling mill. The plant covers two squares. The smokestack was blown down and half the plant demolished, entailing a loss of $25,000. Six employes were injured. The roof and two cupaloes were blown from a Catholic church. The side of the Buck stove plant was blown in.

A calm settled over the city immediately following the storm and no rain fell. Ambulances were rushed to the scene and fire departments responded from all directions. The storm was seen from St. Louis, but there was not the slightest intimation of a wind storm in the heart of the city. Not the slightest damage was done at the world's fair, which is five miles from the path of the tornado.

ANOTHER DEATH.

A newsboy died at a hospital to night of injuries received in a newspaper wagon which was overturned by the storm.

The houseboats Nevermind and Iota, from Muscatine, Iowa, occupied by George A. Miller and Charles Schmelger and families, who were visiting the fair, were wrecked by the wind. The occupants had a narrow escape.

STORM AT VENICE

One Life Lost and Ten Persons Injured.

Venice, Ill., Aug. 19.—The tornado that swept across the river from north St. Louis to day killed Mrs. Margaret Beal, injured ten persons and caused damage to property. The tornado was short but destructive. The tornado was seen crossing the river, but before the alarm could be given it swept into Illinois north of Venice, turned and ploughed its way through the streets.

Mrs. Beal was killed by the falling debris of her home, which was blown to pieces. Mrs. Thomas Wheeless, occupant of a houseboat on the river, was hurt by a falling tree, which crushed the boat. Members of City Marshal Bennett's family hurried into a woodshed, which was demolished, injuring the wife, two sons and two daughters severely. Trees were blown down and a number of houses unroofed. Later rain deluged Venice and flooded the unroofed buildings.

WERE MURDERED.

Algiers, Aug. 19.—Eighty-three horsemen sent by the Moorish pretender, Bu Hamara, to Chief Amada of the Beni Buzzagora tribe to ask his daughter in marriage, were treacherously murdered by the chief.

BANK CLOSED.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The People's National bank of Swanton, Vt., was closed to day by orde rof the comptroller of currency.

AT THE FAIR

Panic Averted in Festival Hall by Woman Singing "America"

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—During a rain storm to night while aconcert was in progress in Festival hall at the exposition lightning put out all the lights. The audience became frightened and a panic was prevented by a woman's voice taking up the strains of "America." Others joined in when the crash of thunder rolled away. In the Chinese village on the "pike" 360 Chinese, just arrived, became panic stricken and officers were forced to draw revolvers to subdue the excitement. Lightning struck nearby and one Chinese was severely shocked, while another jumped from the roof of a building and broke an arm. The band stand in the Plaza of St. Louis was struck by lightning and burned before the rain extinguished the flames.

FOREST FIRES.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 19.—Owing to long continued dry weather forest fires are spreading throughout the interior and along th coast of British Columbia. Practically every wooded district in the province is on fire. Great tracts of valuable timber land are ablaze.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 19.—Fires are still raging in the great forests of Washington and doing incalculable damage.

SYMPATHETIC ACTION

Leaders of Labor Unions Discuss Stock Yards Strike.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Representatives of twenty-five labor unions affiliated with the Chicago Federation of Labor met to night to discuss what the leaders call a plan of "sympathetic action," which, it is said, involves every labor unionist in Chicago. Action was deferred at the request of President Donnelly of the butchers' union, who was absent.

John J. Fitzpatrick said the proposed move was the most important step yet proposed and could not fail to result in settlement of the stock yards strike.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Packing house employes and hungry strikers vied with each other in a steer hunt that extended all night following the riot precipitated by the disappearance of eleven steers. To day the carcasses of four were accounted for. Little beyond the hoofs and horns remained. There is an ample beef supply in many homes to which such a luxury had long been a stranger. The fate of five of the remainder is still in doubt, only two having been rounded up.

DIED FROM WOUNDS.

Bloomington, Aug. 19.—Dr. Samuel L. Chapin, one of the most prominent physicians of central Illinois, died to day from wounds inflicted by George S. Wilkinson at Saybrook last night. Wilkinson, who is aged 70, is in jail here. He refuses to discuss the tragedy further than say his daughter had been living at Chapin's house, and claims Chapin abused her.

REMEDY NEARLY KILLED.

Pekin, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Miles Johns, who has been troubled with rheumatism for the past three months, narrowly averted death as the result of using a solution recommended by a neighbor. The first application apparently gave relief, but the second caused her to sink into unconsciousness, and but for the timely arrival of a physician death would have ensued.

ARIZONA CLOUDBURST.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 19.—A cloudburst at Globe, Ariz., has resulted in several deaths and destruction of much property. Wires are down, but passengers say Mr. Mitchell, wife and four children have been drowned. One report says nine were drowned. The Southern Pacific shops were demolished.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—An official call for the meeting of the twelfth national irrigation congress at El Paso, Tex., Nov. 15-18 was issued to day by C. B. Boothe, chairman of the executive committee.

O'BRIEN RE-ELECTED.

Cork, Aug. 19.—William O'Brien was to day re-elected member of parliament unopposed. Last November O'Brien resigned his seat in parliament owing to differences of opinion with members of the Nationalist party.

SPALDING OUT OF PRISON.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Charles W. Spalding, former bank president, who was convicted and sentenced to ten years imprisonment for embezzlement, was to day discharged from the penitentiary by Judge Dunne on a technicality in the original indictment.

SAIL FOR NEW YORK.

Liverpool, Aug. 19.—The archbishop of Canterbury, wife and two chaplains sailed to day on the steamer Celtic for New York.

Chefoo, Aug. 19.—Firing at Port Arthur by big guns was heard distinctly to night. Late advices from Port Arthur say Paliung Chang, although reported retaken by Russians, has not been occupied by either side.

JAPS ENTER CHEFOO HARBOR

AND CAPTURE AN UNKNOWN STEAMER

Report of Seizure Received by State Department—Russian Gunboat Sunk by Striking Mine—War Reports.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The state department received a cable from Chefoo to day saying: "This morning seven Japanese destroyers entered the harbor and met an unknown steamer entering, which they captured. Two Japanese cruisers are outside the harbor."

Chefoo, Aug. 20.—The steamer Pechili, just arrived, reports that she met seven Japanese destroyers which entered Chefoo yesterday. The Japanese informed the captain of the Pechili that they were seeking a Russian torpedo craft which had escaped from Port Arthur.

Heavy firing was heard by the Pechili all last night. The Japanes esaid a general attack along the line at Port Arthur had been planned for to day.

WAR REPORTS.

Tokio, Aug. 19.—A Russian gunboat of the Otvanji type struck a mine and sank off Laoti promontory, the extreme southern point of Kwang Tung peninsula, on which Port Arthur is situated, at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Mukden, Aug. 19.—A battle is regarded being imminent, as the Japanese on the Russian east front are only twenty miles from Liao Yang. Advance posts are not more than four miles apart. On the south Japanese have retired to Hai Cheng.

Liao Yang, Aug. 19.—Rains continued unceasingly for a week and in many cases roads are completely washed away. Japanese are not making a move as far as known.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 19.—Late to day the admiralty received official information that Vice Admiral Prince Ouktomsky's five battleships and cruiser Pallada are at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, Aug. 19.—Chinese who embarked from Liao Tinshan promontory at eleven yesterday morning report continuance of heavy fighting; that Japanese are occupants of Pigeon bay and are within striking distance of the Liao Tinshan forts. Chinese say Russians are making a final stand and that the Japanese position at Palungchang has been retaken.

London, Aug. 20.—The Tokio correspondent of the Times says the Japanese Marine association has resolved to form a volunter fleet of auxiliary cruisers.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Consul General Goodnow has cabled the state department from Shanghai that the Chinese toatati has reported against the claim of the Russian consul general and decided that the destroyer Grozovol, now at Shanghai, must go out or disarm by Aug. 20, and that the cruiser Askold must do likewise by Aug. 21.

CHINESE SOLDIERS

Said to Be Drilled in China by Japanese Soldiers

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—William Martin United States consul at Nankin, China, who has just arrived from the orient, is quoted in an interview to theeffect that immense bodies of Chinese troops are now drilling in the central portion of the kingdom under the direction of Japanese officers well versed in the art of modern warfare. The soldiers have been supplied with the Mauser type of rifles, the most up to date machine guns obtainable now being purchased for their use. In the vicinity of Nankin alone there are about 5,000 soldiers drilling constrantly.

CAUSED AN EXPLOSION.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—George English, a chemist, while endeavoring this afternoon to make flashlight powder caused an explosion that fatally injured himself, severely hurt his wife and destroyed the home which he had lately erected at a cost of $12,000. The explosion occurred in the basement and forced the floors and roof upward so the house resembled a dome. The detonation was heard for a mile.

CHANCE FOR REPUBLICANS.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Chairman Niederinghaus of the Republican committee of Missouri made a plea at the national headquarters to day for a vigorous campaign in Missouri, contending that on account of differences among Democratic leaders theer is a fair chance of Republican success in Missouri.

CROPS AFFECTED BY RAIN.

Minneapolis, Aug. 19.—Rain over the northwest is making the crop situation, already deplorable, worse than ever and caused a wild bull furore at the opening of the wheat market to day, September touching $1.16½.

DAVIS LED A GERMAN.

White Sulphur Spring, W. Va., Aug. 19.—Senator Davis last night led one of the largest Germans given here this season.

ENCAMPMENT CLOSED

Annual Gathering of Veterans Comes to an End—Affiliated Organization Elect Officers.

Boston, Aug. 19.—The thirty-eighth encampment of the G. A. R. closed to night. Several thousand veterans went home and the convention of various affiliated organizations adjourned.

William E. Dustin, of Dwight, Ill., was elected commander-in-chief of the National Sons of Veterans by acclamation, and George D. Geis, of San Francisco, senior vice commander-in-chief. It was voted to hold the next annual convention at Gettysburg, Pa. A new constitution was adopted.

The Daughters of Veterans voted down a proposal to change the name to Daughters of Rebellion, and elected Ida Warren, of Worcester, president and Myrtle Kramer, of Illinois, junior vice president.

Some of the G. A. R. delegates went on a harbor excursion to Nahant, while a Women's Relief corps took an outing to Revere beach.

FARMER SHOT AND KILLED.

Des Moines, Aug. 19.—John Palmer, a farmer near Grinnell, Iowa, was shot and killed to day by George Mitchell, a renter. Mitchell used a shotgun following an altercation in which Mitchell was beaten. Mitchell was arrested. He alleges self-defense.

SOLDIERS IN FIGHT

United States Regulars and Ohio Militiamen Engage in Battle.

Athens, Ohio, Aug. 19.—Regular army soldiers, said to be members of the cavalry troop at Camp Armitage, to night attacked members of the provost guard made up of members of Company D, Fifth Ohio National guard, Cleveland. Corporal Charles Clark was killed and three militiamen were wounded. The regulars escaped without any casualties as far as known. Fifteen minutes after the shooting General Dick declared Athens under martial law and hundreds of regulars are now patrolling the streets.

The regulars were possessed of the idea that the provosts were arresting regular truants and allowing guardsmen to go. The regulars assembled in Athens to night in force and the provost from Troop D met a number in front of the sheriff's residence near the court house. The regulars showed fight. The guards clubbed rifles. The regulars began to shoot. The guardsmen returned the fire and more than a hundred shots were fired. The fight ended when the regulars scampered for camp after the killing. None were arrested.

TRY TO BREAK STRIKE

Non-Union Men Are Brought to Cleveland by Cloak Manufacturers.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 19.—The first effort of manufacturers to break the cloakmakers' strike was made to day, when fifty non union cloakmakers arrived over the Nickel Plate. Twenty-nine of the fifty were won over by union men when they disembarked at a suburban station. The remained were placed on street cars and when they reached Center City they were surrounded by a mob of 2,000. Stones were hurled and when a riot call was sent in the crowd was dispersed by police.

SMALLPOX IN RUSSIA.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 19.—Word has been received that smallpox is raging along the railroad in eastern Russia. At Villolus there is a hospital where the sick may be taken, but there are no doctors to attend to them. At Tschaniskom the inhabitants are dying by the scores and so many are sick that the dead bodies are lying about unburied. In other sections the disease prevails. Medical aid cannot be obtained and there seems to be no signs of relief.

BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, Aug. 19.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet's for the past week were $1,875,332,771, a decrease of 2.0 per cent compared with the corresponding week last year.

Port of Spain, Aug. 19.—Advices received to day from Carcacas say American Minister Bowen in the name of the United States has requested Venezuela to remove Receiver Carnock, appointed to take charge of the property of the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Co., and return Asphalt lake to the American company.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 19.—Charles Sherer, John Moore and Mamie Hall were killed and Bertha Hill was severely hurt to night by a Pennsylvania passenger train, which struck a covered buggy in which they wer ereturning from a dance in Ohio during a driving rain.

PARAGUAYAN INSURGENTS

HOLD MINISTER OF WAR AND STAFF PRISONERS

Government Officers Refuse to Accede to Their Demands—Bombardment of Capital to Be Resumed.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 19.—Paraguayan insurgents after bombarding Asuncion have seized agovernment steamer and made prisoners of the minister of war and staff on board the vessel. The vessel was towing four lighters loaded with 190 bullocks for the Asuncion garrison. These were confiscated.

At a conference on the insurgent steamer after the bombardment of Asuncion Wednesday between insurgents and ministers of Argentina, Brazil, Italy and France the insurgents said that after the ministers left the vessel they fired two more shots, one at the house of President Escurra and the other at a church concealing a battery, in order to demonstrate the excellence of the artillery. The shots were fired and the president's house and church were hit. No further bombardment has been reported.

The insurgent commander with 2,000 men is marching on Asuncion. An insurgent steamer has sailed for Villa Hayes, north of the capital, the only point which can now be communicated with. The foreign ministers offered intervention. The insurgents replied they will permit President Escurra to continue in office, but demanded the resignation of ministers and other high officials. The insurgents' terms were conveyed to government officers, who promptly declined to accede. The insurgents then sent an ultimatum demanding the surrender of the capital within twenty-four hours, saying that should the demand be not granted bombardment of Asuncion will be resumed.

HOAR'S CONDITION.

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 19.—Senator Hoar's condition showed slight improvement to day.

LETTER FROM MILES

Judge Parker Recipient of Praise From General on Speech of Acceptance

Esopus, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Alton B. Parker to night made public a letter from Nelson A. Miles congratulating him on his speech of acceptance. The letter said the address accepting the Democratic nomination was "more comprehensive, stronger and deeper, and presented in a clearer light the most important principles of our government than any speech or state paper produced in many years.

"I would not erase a line and cheerfully indorse every sentence. It will attract the attention of thoughtful, patriotic citizens of our country. It will be the bow of promise and star of hope to the millions in the orient who are now praying for liberty, and it will vibrate down through the republics of the western hemisphere, giving confidence to fifty millions of people living under democratic governments copied after our own."

TWO PLAYERS LEFT

S. C. Egan and D. E. Sawyer to Battle for Golf Championship

Chicago, Aug. 19.—After two rounds of match play in the western golf championship to day S. C. Egan, Exmoor, and D. E. Sawyer, Wheaton, are survivors for to morrow's thirty-six hole finals for the title once held by Chandler Egan and lost in this tourney by his cousin, W. E. Egan. Every match to day was played in a cold, driving rain. As a side feature of the tourney S. E. Egan, father of Walter Egan, won the veteran cup from a field of twenty starters, making a net score of 81, gross score 89. A. C. Brown, Springfield, made the same gross score, but assumed a handicap of three, making the net 92. Summaries:

D. E. Sawyer, Wheaton, defeated W. K. Wood, Homewood, 4 up 2.

R. H. McElwee, Onwentsia, defeated G. F. Clingman, Jr., Homewood, 2 up.

Fay Ingalls, Cincinnati, defeated S. C. Spitzer, River Forest, 1 up twenty holes.

H. C. Egan defeated R. Hougland, Hinsdale, 5 up 4.

In semi-finals D. E. Sawyer defeated R. H. McElwee, 6 up 5, and H. C. Egan defeated Fay Ingalls 2 up 1.

DENIED BY PRESIDENT PALMA.

New York, Aug. 19.—T. Estrada Palma, president of Cuba, in a dispatch to the Tribune denies the story that he had, before the Spanish war, distributed Cuban bonds to the amount of $2,000,000 among people of influence who helped bring on the war.

"Not a single bond," President Palma says, "was given by me to any person whatever in the United States except for value received, and none was given to any one connected with any branch of the United States government. Any such insinuation is an insult not only to the United States, which in the cause of liberty and humanity did so much for Cuba, but also to me personally."

The story that Palma denies is said to have appeared in a pamphlet prepared by the Cuban commissioners to the St. Louis exposition.

SENATOR FIGHTS FIRE.

Elizabeth, N. J., Aug. 19.—United States Senator John Kean had to turn out of bed this morning to fight a fire that threatened his home at Ursine. The fire was not a hundred yards from his house. A steam threshing machine caught fire in the night and the sparks set fire to a stack of rye nearby. Three other big stacks of rye were soon ablaze and the flames were dangerously near the house. The senator, his butler and the threshers turned out and succeeded in saving the house.

SPOONERS NABBED.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 19.—Another spooning couple were arrested on the beach last evening. Policeman Schultz, who made the arrest, said several hundred people had watched the antics of the pair. The girl was released, but the young man was fined $10.

Mayor Stoy has instructed the police to bar from the beach any person in scanty attire. "I will not say how far down the skirts should reach," said the mayor. "I'll leave that to the eyes of the police. The people must behave decently and if they can't do that we don't want them in Atlantic City."

RACE TRACK STABLES BURN.

Buffalo, Aug. 19.—The big Fort Erie race track stables, stretching a half mile in length, were set on fire by incendaries last night and burned to the ground. Many horses narrowly escaped from being cremated. There is a report that the fire was the work of a woman whose husband lost money on the races which recently closed there. The loss wil be $50,000.

INJURED BY MORTAR PROJECTI

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—A nineteen-pou tseel projectile fired from a mortar rea in the world's fair exhibition of the United States lifesaving corps to day flew wide and severely injured David Lasky of St. Louis, Joseph Fleming of Lexington, Mo., and John C. Gronewond of Kankakee, Ill.

CONFIDENCE UNSETTLED

TRADE AFFECTED BY SENSATIONAL EVENTS

Wheat Market and Lack of Harmony Between Labor and Capital the Discordant Elements—Trade Reviews.

New York, Aug. 19.—Duh's review says: Confidence in continued improvement of trade has been somewhat unsettled by sensational events in the wheat market and lack of harmony between labor and capital. It is becoming evident that estimates of the wheat crop must be reduced, although other agricultural news is much better than usual. In so far as the purchasing power of the farmer is concerned, prices have risen so sharply that any loss in quantity promises to be made up, but this obvious fact is not appreciated by those dealers who are making less preparation for future trade. Some disappointment is also felt by those who counted upon an early resumption of activity in building operations, and other industries are hampered by labor controversies. Otherwise the news of the week has contained much of an encouraging nature. Railway earnings thus far reported for the first week of August show the small gain of 1.4 per cent as compared with last year's figures. Small reduction in prices of cotton goods were made, notably in leading lines of bleached muslins. Woolens are strong and the volume of business is satisfactory. Nominally the market is very firm, but the demand is limited, which produces a certain amount of instability. Leather is dull, shoe factories purchasing little.

Failures this week were 226 in the United States, against 238 last year.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT.

New York, Aug. 19.—Bradstreet's review of trade says: Conservatism rules the buying movement which, while gaining in force at some of the leading markets, still lacks the snap shown in former years at this time. Lateness of the crop season for one thing, reports of wheat and cotton crop deterioration, fortified by continued wheat price advances and revision of quotations, notably in iron and steel and cotton goods, breeds a feeling of indecision. Reports from the great industries show little change during the week. The scarcity of hides has caused the shutdown of a number of tanneries and th estrength of the market is shown in leather quotations, half a cent a pound higher than a month ago and one and one-half cents higher than a year ago. Eastern shoe shipments are 9 per cent smaller for the week and 7 per cent smaller for the season than a year ago. The feature of iron trade this week has been open recognition of conditions claimed to exist for some time past in finished products. A wholesale cut in steel prices, particularly in wire and nails, has been announced and existing pools in some products, notably structural material and plates, are reported shaky. There is no particular change to note in pig iron.

Wheat, including flour, exports, for the week ending Aug. 18 aggregate 1,703,000 bushels, against 3,373,000 this week last year; from July 1 to date exports aggregate 9,550,000 bushels, against 21,833,000 last year.

Corn exports for the week aggregate 570,000 bushels, against 509,000 a year ago; from July 1 to date exports were 3,779,000 bushels, against 7,479,000 in 1903.

DEATHS.

Springfield, Aug. 19.—John W. Johnson, editor and veteran, died to day at Shelbyville. He established the Shelbyville Union. He was a lieutenant of the Fifty-fourth Illinois in the civil war.

DAVIS DENIES CHARGE.

Roanoke, Va., Aug. 8.—I. V. Johnson, of this city, recently wrote a letter to H. G. Davis, Democratic candidate for vice president, asking him if certain stories concerning the West Virginian's attitude toward organized labor were true.

Mr. Johnson has received a reply in which Mr. Davis says, among other things:

"No one who is at all acquainted with the circumstances of my life will put any credence in the statements to which you refer. For many years, I worked in the ranks as a wage earner, and I know what it is to earn my bread by the sweat of my brow. On the other hand, I have been a large employer of labor, and have never had any serious trouble with our men."

Mr. Davis goes on to deny that he ever instituted proceedings in court against strikers, saying that, on the contrary, he had, on one occasion in particular, discountenanced such action.

HAD WRITTEN MANY BOOKS

Colonel Prentiss Ingraham Confederate Soldier and Author Dead—Wellded Fluent Pen.

When Col. Prentiss Ingraham, of Chicago, soldier of fortune, writer and traveler, died Tuesday night at Beauvoir, Miss., there was lost to the world one who had contributed to English fiction 40,000,000 words, or a daily average of more than 3700 during the thirty-four years that he made a living by his pen.

One thousand novels or novelettes is the estimate given by the family and friends of Colonel Ingraham as his life's work. For years he wrote a novel every two or three weeks. Not all of these were published in book form, though many of them were, having first been given to the public as serials in magazines or weekly papers. Quantities of them were published under a pen name in the form of dime novels, or "libraries." Comparatively few were copyrighted.

OUTPUT REDUCED TO WORDS.

Reduced to the number of words, the basis on which a writer's capacity is often estimated, Colonel Ingraham's output was something like this:

| | Words. |
|---|---|
| 600 novels, averaging 70,000 words each | 42,000,000 |
| 400 novelettes, averaging 10,000 words each | 4,000,000 |
| Annual output | 1,353,944 |
| Daily output | 3,706 |
| Hourly output | 154.7 |
| Capacity per minute, every hour of the day for twenty-four years | 2.24 |

The foregoing does not include verses, magazine articles, newspaper sketches and miscellaneous matter that might easily have brought Colonel Ingraham's daily average up to 4000 words.

This prolific writer had an average income of $7000 a year from his writings, so his stupendous labor—the mere physical effort of which would cause the average man to break down, not taking the mental side into consideration, netted him $238,000. Most of this was lost through unfortunate real estate investments.

Thirty-four years ago, seated on one of the park benches in Rotten Row, Colonel Ingraham studied the phases of English character. He was most impressed with the servile characteristics of the lower classes. He wrote for the Pall Mall Gazette a sketch called "Flunkeyism Flamboyant." It pleased the editor and a series of satirical sketches on English character, viewed by American eyes, followed by the ex-confederate soldier. At the time Colonel Ingraham was in need of money. The field of literature proved remunerative and enticing. He never left it. He turned everything he saw into "copy" and ultimately into coin.

Not all of Colonel Ingraham's writings were of the potboiling variety, however. He found time and had the ability to write works of more serious character and literary merit. "Land of Legendary Lore" is one of his latest works. Another that has had a good sale in Chicago and which was first published a year ago is "The Rough Riders," a story of a trip taken through the Grand Canon by a party of girls. He wrote several plays, one of which, "Montezuma," had a run for several years and would have brought Colonel Ingraham many thousands of dollars had there not been some financial understanding with the theatrical managers that bought the rights. "Life and Duty," a military drama written by the colonel, was also successfully played for several years.

SOME OF THE BEST KNOWN BOOKS.

Colonel Ingraham's best known works include:

"Afloat and Ashore," "Montezuma," "Merciless," "Cretan Rover," "The Cuban," "The Shades and Shadows of Gotham," 1873; "Motherless," 1876; "Without Heart," 1878; "Merle," "The Mutineer," "A Knight of the Plains," 1882; "Zulekah, a Story of Crete," 1887; "Darkie Dan," 1888; "In Golden Fetters," 1888; "Cadet Carey, of West Point," 1890; "In Satan's Coil," 1890; "The Vagabond," "The Wandering Jew of the Sea," 1891; "Given for Gold," 1893; "Trailing with Buffalo Bill," 1899.

"My husband often wished to confine his literary work to that for which he was best fitted," said Mrs. Ingraham yesterday at her home, 360 Fifty-fourth street, Chicago, "but the other kind was the more lucrative. I never heard him complain of the amount of work that he did and I think he enjoyed it. He was not working continuously. We traveled extensively abroad and in this country, and his writings were often based on what he saw in strange lands. During the last four or five years Colonel Ingraham was not in robust health, but he did a vast amount of work. His work was mostly by dictation. He would have a stenographer visit the house and would simply talk to her. He rarely found revision necessary when his manuscript was submitted to him next day."

HIS MILITARY SERVICE.

Besides serving in the confederate army, where he gained his rank, Colonel Ingraham saw military service in Mexico under Juarez, in Austria, in Prussia, in Crete and Africa. He also served in the Cuban ten years' war for independence and traveled extensively in the east. He received a college education in Mississippi. His father was the Rev. Joseph A. Ingraham, author of "A Prince of the House of David," and his brother, an Episcopalian clergyman of St. Louis, has written several books.

The burial will be in Mssissippi. Miss Rosa Ingraham, a daughter, left yesterday for Beauvoir.—Chicago Tribune.

Finger Print Identifications.

The identification of criminals by means of finger prints introduced in recent years in European police and penal establishments is paralleled by a similar custom which has been used in Korea for centuries to identify female slaves. In a paper recently read before the Anthropological society of London by a missionary from Korea it was stated that in the deeds of sale of slaves the hand of the latter was placed on the sheet of paper on which the deed was inscribed, and an outline of the fingers and thumb was traced, while in addition an impression was made of each finger. Such impressions, which naturally furnished a complete identification, have been found on deeds that date back 1,200 years.—Harper's Weekly.

Well Known Physician Murdered Near Bloomington—Other News Notes.

Bloomington—Clubbed and beaten and then shot in the back by an assailant named Wilkinson, who lay waiting for him, Dr. S. L. Chapin, a prominent physician of Saybrook, eighteen miles west of here, was fatally injured at 9:30 o'clock Thursday evening. Dr. Chapin was on his way home. It was very dark along the highway and when he reached a point a short distance from his residence he was accosted by his assailant, who asked:

"Is this Dr. Chapin?"

ASSAULTED AND THEN SHOT.

When the doctor responded in the affirmative his assailant struck him a vicious blow with a club and followed it up with another. His assailant then drew a revolver, and, as the doctor staggered from him under the weight of the blows, shot him in the back, the bullet lodging in the physician's abdomen. Dr. Chapin was able to reach his home and gave the name of his assailant, whom he recognized as Wilkinson, before losing consciousness. No effort was made by Wilkinson to escape. He was arrested shortly after Dr. Chapin's injury became known and was locked up in the jail at Saybrook. Wilkinson refused to make a statement of any sort concerning the affair.

REARED WILKINSON'S DAUGHTER.

Dr. and Mrs. Chapin have practically reared one of Wilkinson's daughters, sending her to school at Normal and giving her a home at their residence, but this is not believed to have had any connection with the murderous assault. The affair is shrouded in something of a mystery and has caused a big sensation throughout McLean county, where Dr. Chapin and his relatives are prominent. Dr. Chapin is a brother of Dr. C. E. Chapin, of Bloomington, and the family is well known in central Illinois.

THE EARLY COLLEGES

President James of Northwestern University Has Words of Praise for the Small Colleges of Illinois.

The Chicago Tribune of Friday published the following communication written by President Edmund James, of Northwestern university, regarding Illinois college and the early colleges of the state:

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 16.—(Editor of the Tribune.)—I noticed a well deserved tribute to Illinois college in your editorial column in the issue of Aug. 15. I think our Chicago people are too apt to overlook the valuable and interesting work carried on by institutions outside of Chicago and Cook county, and among all these institutions certainly none deserves better at the hands of the citizens of Illinois than the old college at Jacksonville. I am sure that anything that can be done to assist this institution will be in the interest of higher education in this state.

You have made one mistake in your editorial which I think deserves correction.

What you say about the feeling of the inhabitants of southern Illinois, as a class, toward Yankee preachers, Yankee politicians and Yankees in general is, I think, true. But the opposition to granting charters of incorporation to higher ing charters of incorporation to highere institutions of learning did not grow out of this feeling; for it was quite as marked toward the attempt to secure a charter for what is now Shurtleff college, at Alton, and what is now McKendree college, at Lebanon, Ill., as against the Jacksonville project. It is an interesting fact that no one of these institutions could secure a charter until all three had united in their efforts and secured the passage of a law which gave equal privileges to the three institutions at Jacksonville, Alton and Lebanon. Even when this privilege was given it was within comparatively narrow bounds, limiting the amount of real estate which they might hold and specifying particularly that no one of these institutions should ever establish a theological department, a branch of instruction which seemed to be especially obnoxious to the wise men of this state in the later 20's and early '30s.

The real reason for the opposition, aside from the general ignorance and apathy of the people of the state toward higher education, seems to have been a fear, growing out of the doctrine laid down by the United States supreme court, in the famous Dartmouth college case, that institutions of higher learning might, in some mysterious way, secure an undue control over the minds and hearts of the inhabitants of this state, and that the people might be creating, in granting such charters of corporation, a kind of Frankenstein, before whose possible career they recoiled in horror. How strong and widespread this feeling was is amply proven by an incident which happened in connection with the granting of the second charter to McKendree college, of Lebanon, Ill. The legislature was in session as Vandalia, and Abraham Lincoln was in charge of the bill which conferred a new charter and larger privileges upon the college. A representative of the board of trustees from Lebanon was on hand, and as soon as the bill was passed and approved by the governor, Abraham Lincoln urged him to travel home post haste, call a meeting of the board, and take action under it immediately, thus practically converting the charter into a contract, in accordance with the Dartmouth college decision; "for," said Lincoln, "if the country brethren wake up to what they have done before you take such action, they will repeal your charter with eager unanimity and with the utmost speed."

The whole history of the attitude of the people of Illinois toward higher education in the first twenty years after the admission of the state to the union is a most interesting one,, and would be well worth a careful monograph by some students of our educational history.

GERMAN PEOPLE AND CUSTOMS

Miss Bertha Reed Who Has Spent Two Years in Country of Kaiser Tells of Her Experiences.

(Decatur Review.)

Miss Bertha Reed, daughter of Rev. Horace Reed, who has been in Europe for the past two years, has returned home and is at her father's house. She went to Europe in July, 1902, and landed in New York city last Thursday.

Miss Reed will remain in the city for about a month and will then go east to take a chair in German in the Girls' Latin school at Baltimore. She formerly taught German in the high school in this city and her visit to Europe was for the purpose of better equipping herself to teach. She spent her time studying German literature and during her vacations traveled a good deal over Europe.

FINEST LIBRARY.

Miss Reed was at the University of Berlin and also at the University of Zurich. She spent six months in London, where she went to prepare a dissertation which will be published later. She went to London in order to have the advantages of the library of the British museum. Miss Reed says that this is the finest library in the world and that the German professors told her it was even a better German library than could be found in Germany. The subject of her dissertation is "The Influence of Germans Upon English Literature."

London Miss Reed liked better as a city than any other place she visited, but her life in Germany she greatly enjoyed.

"I lived in a German family," said Miss Reed, "and it gave me a great insight into the German thought and life and customs. It takes a whole year for one to get accustomed to the German life, but during the second year one is prepared to understand and study the people. They are interesting and good. The Germans are hospitable and I enjoyed living with them. Some German teachers go to Germany for a summer vacation thinking that they will be benefited, but they cannot learn much about the people in so short a time.

LIVING NOT CHEAP.

"There is an idea that one can live cheaper in Germany than in this country, but it is not true. In fact, meat stuffs, bread and vegetables are higher than in this country and a student will find that it costs just about as much to attend a German university as it does to go to a college in this country.

"Now it is true that German people live cheaper than the American people. It is because they are more economical. That is the reason that the idea gets out that living is cheaper. When every one else is economical it is very easy to be that way. The Germans of moderate means are surrounded by others who are saving and they are contented to be the same way and they do save, but when they come to America they are surrounded by people who live in luxury and their demands are greater.

MANY GOING BACK.

"I was told on the boat coming home that as many Germans are going back to Germany as are coming over here. The German people are not flocking to this country as they did ten years ago. There is so much cheap labor now that the high salaries a German could once command cannot now be secured and it is better for them to stay in their own country and live on less."

Miss Reed says that she saw many Americans in Germany and that she could always distinguish them. An American, she says, is always detected by one of his country. In Berlin anything American wanted can be bought and the people from this country are always well treated.

Miss Reed brought with her many pictures of foreign places and has a fine collection of fancy post cards. She spent a good deal of her vacation time in Switzerland and saw much of Germany on walking trips which she made.

Democrats care very little about Candidate Davis' age so long as he displays a generous disposition.

The Democrats might have been dangerous opponents of the Republicans this year if they had repudiated Bryanism at St. Louis instead of compromising with it.

Sight should not be lost of the fact that so far as the Democratic platform is concerned the party stands just where it did in 1896 and in 1900 on the money question.

Democratic managers in estimating the electoral college vote follow the report of the boy who was catching rats. He said: "When I get the one I am after and two more I'll have three."

It must seem a little awkward for the Democrats to ask for power, not on their own record, but on the strength of the Republican party's record.

General McClellan repudiated the Democratic platform of 1864, just as Judge Parker has repudiated it in 1904. The results will be about the same.

The American flag was never more universally respected than it is now or the power of the republic more sensibly felt everywhere. Why change?

The Democratic claim of wonders they will work if given power should be discounted by a backward glance at their past failures and follies.

The Democrats are appealing to "the masses." The American people made it plain in 1896 and again in 1900 whether they wanted an administration of the masses, the classes or the whole people.

Every table of statistics showing the growth of trade and manufactures under Republican rule spells prosperity for the people and disappointment to Democratic hopes.

"It was at no time possible to have adopted a gold standard platform at St. Louis," says Senator Culberson of Texas. No one will question Senator Culberson's right to speak with authority on Democratic policies.

While eastern Democrats are claiming that their party is pledged to the gold standard, Democrats of Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota and other states in the west are planning fusions with the Populists and standing squarely on the money plank of the Kansas City platform.

Democratic managers propose to make the campaign "on President Roosevelt's personality." They will find that the heart and the conscience of the masses are with him and that he can not be defeated by any effort to exaggerate his faults or obscure his virtues.

JUDGE PARKER AND THE TRUSTS.

On Tuesday, Aug. 9, the New York Times, which is a zealous supporter of Parker and Davis, came out in an editorial in favor of the nomination of Daniel S. Lamont for governor of New York, saying "his nomination would be the strongest the party could make." On the same day it published the following information in its new columns:

"It was learned last night that James J. Hill, of St. Paul, the president of the Great Northern railroad, is especially anxious to see Mr. Lamont nominated. Mr. Lamont is the vice president of the Northern Pacific road. Both roads were parties to the Northern Securities merger, which President Roosevelt and his attorney general successfully combated in the courts. Mr. Hill is especially bitter against President Roosevelt, and has espoused the Parker and Davis cause. Mr. Hill, however, as a preliminary to making his campaign contribution, which is one of the largest in the country, is understood to be insisting that he be assured that New York state is at least likely to go to the Democratic ticket.

"It is said that Mr. Hill believes that Mr. Lamont can carry the state of New York and can materially aid the election of the electoral ticket. For this reason, there is good reason to believe that Mr. Hill's contribution to the national campaign fund would be several hundreds of thousands of dollars more if Mr. Lamont is named for governor than if the nomination goes to another. Moreover, it is said that Mr. Hill would contribute materially to the campaign in New York state if his friend Lamont, who is also an intimate business associate, should be running.

"From a national committee source the belief was expressed last night that Mr. Hill would contribute fully $400,000 to the national campaign and $100,000 to the New York state campaign if Mr. Lamont is named, and that his donations might reach twice that sum if the indications continued to point to party success and it could be shown to him where further contributions on his part would aid the canvass."

A day later, Aug. 10, in explaining this publication, it said that it had been obtained from a "member of the Democratic national committee." This would seem to establish its authenticity. At least it shows the attitude of James J. Hill and the other trust magnates whose business President Roosevelt broke up with his merger suit. It shows that they are preparing to give money to the Democratic campaign fund with the expectation that Parker, if elected, will be friendly to them.

Lamont, it should be remembered, was Cleveland's private secretary and subsequently his secretary of war. When he retired from public life with Cleveland he went into Wall street with the Whitney-Ryan-Flower crowd and subsequently into the Hill trust combination and became a millionaire several times over. The Times' revelation about him destroyed his usefulness as a candidate, but it showed unmistakably what is going on in the Democratic campaign. The baffled and enraged trusts are behind Parker and are preparing to pour out money to elect him. Parker says in his speech of acceptance that he thinks the common law is ample to keep the trusts within bounds, that no other law is necessary. Under the common law the merger suit could not have been brought.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Cat and the Catnip.

Two ladies were chatting at a hotel in Boston the other day when the visitor said to her friend, "I've a cat that can read." "A cat that can read!" exclaimed the other. "Yes, a cat that can read! At any rate, she knows when a letter comes to her. Suppose we send her a letter and you come to my house in the morning just before the postman's hour for calling."

The other lady agreed, though she was still somewhat doubtful as to puss' power to pick out her letter from the morning's mail. But she got writing material for her visitor, who went into an adjoining room and fixed up the letter, which was in a sealed envelope addressed to "Miss Pussy, No. — Marlboro Street, City." That evening the letter was posted, and at the appointed time the next day the two ladies were at the Marlboro street house.

The intelligent cat was lying on the tiger skin in front of the grate. Soon the bell rang, and a servant entered with a bundle of letters, among which was that for Miss Pussy. Placing the letters near the cat, the lady of the house said, "Now, Miss Pussy, pick out your letter." Sure enough, puss at once showed an interest and in a moment had pushed aside with her paws the envelope addressed to her. "Well, well, how wonderful!" said the doubting lady, whereupon the other spoke up: "Wait a minute. She'll actually open it and devour the contents." Scarcely had the mistress said this when puss tore open the envelope and devoured the contents—catnip.

Invisible Quotations.

Reading invisible quotations is a puzzling trick if deftly performed. Two of the players must know the game. One sits in a chair and the other stands behind him. The company is asked to write a word or a quotation or question on a slip of paper previously given to each one. When this is done, all the slips are collected by the player who stands behind the chair.

Now, before the game begins this player has written and given to the one in the chair a quotation, which the one in the chair holds hidden in his hand.

The player behind the chair then takes the slips he has just collected and presses one against the forehead of player No. 2. After an apparent effort he calls off the quotation that player No. 1 had already given him and which he has hastily read.

"Who wrote that?" asks No. 2. And then No. 1, who in the sight of all pretended to write a paper at the time they all did, says, "I did," and hands the paper pressed against the forehead to player No. 2. But you will see the paper held against the forehead was really written by one of the circle, so No. 2 has one paper ahead each time, which he reads and then asks, "Who wrote that?"

Boys Who Became Famous.

General Lew Wallace, author of "Ben-Hur," was the lazy son of well to do parents. His turning point, which started him toward fame, was a sound "talking to" from his father, who showed him just where his idleness and carelessness were leading him.

Grover Cleveland's first job was as clerk in a country store.

Hugh Chisholm, the great paper manufacturer, began as a newsboy on the Grand Trunk railroad.

Colonel Albert A. Pope, the manufacturer of bicycles, was a fruit peddler in his boyhood.

If these men succeeded in spite of everything, so can you, boys and girls.

Why Did John Yell?

On his way home with a jug containing two quarts of N. O. molasses John meets Henry, William, Frank and Peter and gives them all a "swig." How much did he have left when he entered the house and what occasioned his yells five minutes later?

Oldest Tree.

The oldest tree in the world is on the island of Kos, lying off the coast of Asia Minor. The trunk is thirty feet in circumference. A wall of masonry surrounds it and supports the two main branches. It is believed to be more than 2,000 years old.

Helen's Funny Remark.

Mother was trying on baby Helen's first bathing suit. She expected the child would be wild with delight when she saw herself arrayed for the sea. Instead Helen squirmed and shouted: "Take it off. I don't like it. It whiskers me too much."

A Five-year-old Chair.

Hannah was five years old, and once she stood next to a chair which was just as tall as she was.

"Oh, mamma," cried the little miss, "this chair must be five years old because it is just as big as I am."

A Picture.

Dainty little Marguerite,
Tripping down the stair,
With the dancing sunlight
In her golden hair.

Through the open doorway
In the sunny brightness
Where the morning glories
Nod in airy lightness.

Mamma, coming downward,
Sees her darling stand,
Snowy ruffled apron
Held in either hand,

Making stately courtesy
With a childlike grace
And a reverent brightness
On her upturned face.

"What art doing, baby?"
Called the mother's voice,
While the pretty picture
Made her heart rejoice.

Morning glories kissed the curls
The open brow adorning,
As the little maid replied,
"I'm wishing God good morning."

A TRIBUTE TO "BILLY."

Waverly Enterprise: "Big Billy," the pacer which has been creating such a stir at the Jacksonville Gentlemen's Driving club at different times, was purchased Tuesday of Edgar Arnold, his owner, in this city, for $350. He was bought by a Franklyn syndicate composed of Messrs. George Woods, Glen Harney, Henry Votzmeyer and Martin Anderson. At home here "Big Billy" was considered a pretty fair pacer, but not having a ten-yard long pedigree nor having the apeparance of aristocratic breeding, no particular attention was given him until taken to Jacksonvill a few weeks ago to give him a little speed exercise daily. "Billy" took to his training in good style, and in a few days was able to hop over the ground at a pretty lively gait. His movements attracted the attention of some of the wise old horsemen in that city, and the commenced hammering around for some cheap speeders to pit "Billy" against. Several were found, whose owners laughed in their sleeves at the "soft snap" they had found. It happened this way: "Billy" finished his job before the would-be "swifts" had fairly started. Then they found some "better" stock, but it made no difference to "Billy," he got there just the same and pocketed the money. "Blankety-blank the darned thing!" groaned the wise old sports, "can't we head him off some way?" So they brought out one of their long-pedigreed beauties to humiliate the meek and lowly-looking victor other runs; but, pshaw! pedigree was left far behind when butting against speed and skill. "Billy" has cremated the whole ring. "John R. Tanner," the pride of Jacksonville sports, will not be allowed to travel over the track against "Billy," for fear of defeat. "Billy" has a future before him, and under his new ownership every opportunity will be given him to further develop the hidden talent he has shown for speed. In the meantime the horse guys of Jacksonville are still wondering how it happened, and feeling like a plugged nickel at the bottom of a deep artesian well. Bully for "Billy!"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROWS.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 19.—At a conference of Christian Scientists testimony was given as a proof of the success of the faith in preventing runaways. One instance occurred in Omaha last week. Mrs. Wakely testified that she believed a treatment for fear which she gave enabled Hortense Fuller, a 15-year-old girl, to steer a team of frightened horses for two miles through the city without a mishap. Another woman testified that she gave her horse, which had become frightened at an automobile, a similar treatment, and that within three blocks she had the fractious animal under complete control.

PARTY MANAGERS WAIT

Chautauqua Season Claims Time of Many Prominent Speakers and Spellbinders.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—When the spellbinders finish the Chautauqua season, the party managers on both sides will feel relieved. Schedules are waiting until the political stars close their lecturing tours.

Managers hestitate to insist that an orator who is making from $125 to $500 a lecture should give up this lucrative business to thrill the expectant voters, but some of their best attractions are tied up in the Chautauqua circuits, and they are in about the same position as prize fight promoters trying to get their proteges off the stage and into the ring.

Joe Bailey, the Texan, was scheduled once to make the principal effort at the Democratic demonstration at Aurora on Saturday, but some one informed him that it was a Chautauqua assembly and he declined, not wishing to injure the business by appearing free on occasions which usually net $200 to congressmen of his class.

Bryan is tied up well into September by these arrangements. General Grosvenor, of Ohio, who is traveling in joint debate with Champ Clark, of Missouri, as an opponent, was at the Republican national headquarters yesterday.

Senator J. P. Dolliver, of Iowa, also was there, and he declares that either Clark or Grosvenor owes the city of Fort Dodge, Iowa, $200. During their joint debate in that place Clark charged McKinley with having voted for free silver and Grosvenor with having made free silver speeches in the house. Grosvenor denied both and challenged proof. A bet of $200 was made, winner to donate the proceeds to a Fort Dodge charity.

Dolliver, who entertained the debaters, says he has been endeavoring ever since to have them "meet up with a congressional record and decide the wager." They, however, have lost interest in the subject.

APPOINTED FACTORY INSPECTOR.

Edward Kastrup, of this city, has been appointed deputy factory inspector by Gov. Richard Yates and will enter upon his duties Sept. 1. His territory will be in the northern part of the state.

The apopinment of Mr. Kastrup will be welcome news to his many friends in this city and is certainly a splendid selection. For four years he has represented the ninth Jacksonville district on the county central committee and has been an enthusiastic party worker and thorough going Republican at all times.

Mr. Kastrup has been in the employ of the Kent-McCarthy Co., cigar manufacturers, for a number of years and always enjoyed the confidence and esteem of his employers. While the duties of his office will take him away from the city a great deal of the time they will not necessitate his removing his residence from Jacksonville.

JEFFRIES' BAND.

The members of Jeffries' Concert band arrived home Friday evening from a two weeks' engagement at the Owensboro, Ky., Chautauqua and reported a grand time. The band was received with the same hearty favor as in previous years and scored another splendid triumph.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Burlington Will Extend Old J. & St. L.—New Wabash Time Card—Heavy Traffic on Alton—Other Items.

Alton engine 224 broke a brake beam here Friday.

* * *

Frank Ashley, conductor on the Wabash Keokuk local, is laying off and Frank Konrad caught his run Friday.

* * *

Peter Handley, machinist at the shops, has resigned to accept a position at the Alton shops in Bloomington.

* * *

John Sauers, roadmaster of the C., P. & St. L., was in the city Thursday looking over the road.

* * *

E. C. Welsh, engineer of the maintenance of way of the C., P. & St. L., and Civil Engineer P. T. Simons were in the city Friday obtaining a map of the road and adjacent property. Mr. Welsh was recently appointed and takes this method of becoming acquainted with the C., P. & St. L. property.

* * *

The heavy meat traffic out of Roodhouse on the Alton for St. Louis is delaying all the trains out of that city. For the last few days the local through here has been two hours late getting started. The meat is mainly dressed beef consigned from Kansas City to St. Louis. Train 91 was compelled to run in five sections Friday.

* * *

Lately the local on the C. & A. has been doing considerable work here. John Cherry, Sr., has ordered 1000 cars of brick, sand, etc., for his paving contracts and it is beginning to come in. The local has set off about fifteen cars already, which, with the regular traffic, about fills up the present yards. On this account about twelve or fifteen cars have been set out at the Davis and other sidings.

* * *

The new Wabash time card is in the hands of the printers. It goes into effect at 5 a. m. Sunday, Aug. 21. There are to be no additional trains and no changes in the time of trains at this station that are of much importance. The schedule was made to accommodate the Banner Blue Limited, which will be trains No. 11 and No. 14.

* * *

Conductor Chaddon got left from his train at San Jose Friday and had to deadhead in on No. 86.

* * *

There will be a big fire in Slater, Mo., soon and property which has cost the Chicago & Alton over $50,000 will be consumed by the flames. All the old box cars with a capacity of less than 60,000 pounds, which have been in service for many years, are being collected and will be taken to Slater and burned.

* * *

Conductor Draper and crew and Conductor Quann and crew were run south out of Roodhouse Tuesday morning on account of heavy business south of there.

* * *

The Jacksonville & St. Louis railroad, which is now known as the Beardstown division of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, will be extended south from Centralia into the coal fields of Williamson county. The new road will be known as the Northern & Southern. The Centralia Democrat in speaking of the new road says: "Morris A. Zook, chief engineer of the Northern & Southern Railroad company, arrived here yesterday and rented offices in the west end of the north side of Colonel Pittenger's new building on North Locust street. Mr. Zook is accompanied by a surveying corps of twelve men. As soon as practicable he will begin the work of surveying a line south from Centralia for the Northern & Southern railroad, which the articles of incorporation state is to be built from Centralia to Herrin, in Williamson county. Mr. Zook could give no information other than as above, but it is the general understanding that the Burlington is back of the proposed road, which will give it an entry into the great coal fields of southern Illinois."

DR. NORBURY HONORED.

Dr. F. P. Norbury has been honored with an invitation to become a member and participate in the sessions of the international congress of arts and sciences, to be held at the Louisiana purchase expositon Sept. 19 to 25. The invitation is sent out under the direction of the exposition officials and bears the signatures of President Francis and other high officials of the great fair. Simon Newcomb, of Washington, D. C., head of the United States weather observation bureau and a noted astronomer, is president of the congress and scientists from all parts of the world expect to be present and participate in the sessions of the congress.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A pleasant surprise party was given recently in honor of the tenth birthday of Miss Gussie Green at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Green, east of the city. The party was planned by Miss Mary, her sister, assisted by Miss Marie Hull, and a fine time was enjoyed by all present. Elegant refreshments were served and heartily enjoyed by the children. Miss Gussie was the recipient of many handsome presents.

SEEKING REVENGE

New Yorkers may soon read the details of a deadly encounter in this city between two men. It may be a duel or perhaps a hand to hand life and death struggle in the streets or at one of the hotels.

This much is certain: Two men are carefully watching each other. Each is a man of the world, each is handsome, and each is apparently determined.

The story in which they are concerned, which sounds like an adventurous tale of olden days, came to light the other day.

Three handsome, fashionably attired men were discussing politics and kindred subjects on Park row. They had stood together for nearly an hour and were about to separate when a tall stranger, a dark complexioned man, wearing a black alpine hat, black clothing and silver rimmed glasses, approached them.

Lifting his glasses with his left hand and at the same time putting his right hand into the pocket of his short top coat the stranger gazed intently, but without fierceness, into the eyes of one of the trio. He stood for a moment without speaking, while the man thus silently addressed paled visibly.

Then the stranger said, "Are you"—

"No; I am not!" quickly answered the other.

But he was the man whose name was mentioned by the stranger.

The two onlookers watched the men in amazement. The stranger, pinching the muscles of his face together, remarked:

"I believe you are a liar, but I will satisfy myself before dealing with you. You will see me again."

Then the stranger walked away toward the bridge entrance.

Before going further it may be well to tell something about the man whose lease of life appeared indeed slim for a few seconds to his two companions. He is a painter, and a good one, and has a studio on the west side above Thirtieth street. Almost any day he can be met on Park row or in that vicinity. He is a Spaniard, tall, distinguished looking and every inch a bohemian. He has made several fortunes with his brush, and his pictures hang in the homes of many members of New York's most select society. For the purposes of this article it is not necessary that his name should be mentioned, but unless many signs utterly fail it is only a question of a few days when it will be made known.

But to return to the scene on Park row. As soon as the stranger was out of sight, disappearing as he did in the crowds near the bridge, the painter, now flushed, but with a serious mien, turned to his companions.

"You may call me a coward if you will, boys, but that man meant business. You bet I know him, and he knows me; but, being totally unprepared, I, for the minute unnerved and knew that to deny my identity was the only safe course.

"What is the trouble? Ah, I had almost forgotten about the matter and supposed I would never hear of it again, but this fiend brings it all back and will make trouble for me. Several years ago I was warned to be on my guard, and so for awhile I was vigilant, but as nothing happened I ceased thinking of the matter."

"But what is it all about?" queried one of the men. "A woman in the case?"

"No, the story is simply this. About a dozen years ago, accompanied by a young Boston student, I was traveling in Spain, stopping here and there to make sketches. Spain in those days was overrun with brigands of the smaller order—gypsies we would call them here—but the caminos real, or main highways, were not patrolled by soldiers as they are at present. Traveling on mules was, therefore, rather dangerous, but we experienced no trouble until we reached a small village called Rivellos, in the province of Lerida and only about fifty miles from Barcelona. Here we put up for the night, but in the morning we found that our mules had been stolen. The keeper of the casa, or inn, told us he suspected a band of gypsies who were in camp a mile or so away.

"It was a small matter to risk our lives for, but we at once started for the camp, where we found only two men and one wagon, to which our mules were hitched. The men suspected the object of our visit at once, for they began firing at us. With our heavy carbines we returned the fire, and one of the men fell dead. The other then surrendered, and we marched him back to Rivellos, taking our mules along. On the advice of the keeper of the inn we took our prisoner to Cajao, several miles away, and surrendered him, as well as ourselves, to the military authorities. Upon our statement of the case and the presentation of our passports we were allowed to go.

"You may be sure we lost no time in reaching Barcelona, taking the boat thence to Montpellier, on the French coast. A few days later we landed in Paris, and there I remained about a year.

"Who is this man? None other than the fellow we arrested and whose brother we killed. Evidently he thinks I am the man who fired the fatal shot. Perhaps I am, but I do not know."

After hearing the remarkable story his friends advised the artist to ask for police protection.

"I will not do that," he said, "but I will be prepared, and if again he asks me if my name is —— I will answer 'Yes,' without hesitation, for, I tell you, boys, I would rather be shot than always fear that some devil was lurking upon my trail."—New York Times.

RICH BOOTY ON SEAS.

American Goods For Japan and Russia Worth $10,500,000.

CONTRABAND LIABLE TO SEIZURE

Food Supplies, Medicines, Rifles and Other Articles Shipped by American Firms Are on the Way to the Belligerents In the Far East—Greater Part For Japan.

America at this moment has upon the high seas, consigned to Japan, $7,000,000 in goods, which, in part or in whole, are liable to seizure as contraband of war. Consigned to Russia, merchants of the United States have at sea goods of like nature and of about half the value of those en route for Japan, says the New York Herald.

Although it is supposed that a considerable business is done in munitions of war, the experience of the trade has been so ample that the lesson of secrecy has been well learned. Notwithstanding it is known that the armies of several nations have been equipped with American arms, the export records of this country do not show that any arms ever left our ports.

The Russian government has been informed that 100 packages of sewing machines shipped by the steamship Empress of India from Vancouver on July 25 are in fact rifles from a Connecticut arms factory. A shipment of this size, however, is regarded only as a sample lot, but it has taken a tortuous and what would appear to be an expensive route. Being brought to New Haven it was sent in a schooner to Hartford, whence it was rebilled and sent by rail to Buffalo. It was then reshipped to Duluth by water, rebilled there to Fargo, rebilled again to Dominion City, Manitoba, where it reached the Canadian Pacific railroad. It finally was delivered in a warehouse in Vancouver. There it was rebilled and the packages remarked and put on board ship for its actual destination.

The trade on the Pacific is chiefly with Japan and concerns articles, the use of which for war purposes scarcely can be denied. It includes grain, flour, mules, chemicals, machinery, railway supplies, leather, electric appliances, and, in small quantities, firearms. The locks and magazines of the rifles went in one ship, the stocks and barrels in another, and each was billed as machinery. But they were consigned to the same house in Yokohama.

A medical supply house in New Brunswick is busy night and day filling orders for silk and catgut ligatures, which are packed under a distinctive label. Another medical supply house of Philadelphia, whose preparations are chiefly compressed in tablets, has supplied great quantities of its goods. They were sent largely to England for reshipment.

Another firm of manufacturing chemists of Philadelphia whose preparations are standard the world over has furnished enormous quantities of sulphate of quinine. One shipment of this article is 1,000 pounds gross. Among the important items appearing in these invoices are 374 packages of surgical instruments worth about $200 a set, shipped on the Mesaba July 23. Also 300 cases of antiseptic bandages and 100 packages of antiseptic sponges, via Tilbury docks, the departure port of the Peninsular and Oriental ships from London.

The greatest stores of this class of goods going to the east issues, however, from a Detroit drug house, which has branches in Australia and agencies in all the east. All the visible supply of camphor in this country has been taken up for shipment to the east, and much of it is on its way.

In New York city, a Broad street house is intrusted with the confidential business of the Russian government, and it extends its supervision over this country and Canada, and through its many agencies keeps trace of every foreign shipment that looks suspicious.

IMITATORS OF IGORROTES.

Jealous Exhibitors In Scant Attire Feasted on Sausage.

Failing to rival the Igorrotes in popularity and ignored by the visitors to the Louisiana Purchase exposition, who hurry to the "dog eaters" for their first view, several world's fair exhibitors, together with some St. Louis men about town and visiting manufacturers, recently gave an Igorrote breakfast at the Missouri Athletic club, at which the lack of clothing was peculiarly Igorrotish and the food was Americanized dog sausage, says a St. Louis special to the New York World.

The breakfast was in the Turkish bath department of the club. After coming from a swim in the pool a dozen towel clad men sat at a table and consumed sausages, beer and cocktails until their taste for the untrammeled life of the savage had been satisfied.

How Ta-ra-ra Boom Fooled Russians.

A landed proprietor of the government of Ufa, Russia, tells this story, says the New York Globe: "A typical German trickster arrived at our village of Anastasevka on April 12 and announced that the first Japanese prisoner was coming along in an iron box and that if the mir (communal council) voted a sum of 2 rubles the peasant would be allowed to hear him squeal for mercy and afterward sing his national war song. The mir apparently voted the money, for the performance was in full progress outside of the state public house when I arrived. On a table in the roadway was a small box, from a trumpet affixed to which issued in good but squeaky English the famous 'Ta-ra-ra-boom de-ay.'"

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Washing Dishes.

A dish well scraped is half washed. Scrape and stack dishes carefully. When knives, forks or plates are greasy or fishy from the serving of fish wipe them off with pieces of paper, which are easily burned. Keep the grease out of the pan and away from the dishcloth. Wash the silver first, using plenty of hot water and soap. Wash the glasses after the silver and then the cups and saucers, plates, etc. When the dishes are washed throw the water out. Don't wash tinware or kettles in thick water. Have a separate dishcloth for pans and another for kettles.

A Family Fire Drill.

A family fire drill occasionally where there are little children is an excellent plan. Provide them with wool dressing gown and slippers to keep near the bed and teach them at the first alarm of fire to slip them on, throw a blanket or rug over head and shoulders, and if possible tie a wet handkerchief, preferably silk, over their mouths and then take the most direct way out. Teach them how to put out a small fire with rugs or blankets, stopping direct drafts by closing doors or windows, and, above all, to keep cool and collected.

The Cabbage Smell.

Stale white bread is invaluable in a household where boiled cabbage is often a part of the meal. A small piece put in the pot in which that tasty if somewhat odorous vegetable is cooking will effectually destroy all traces of its presence as far as the nostrils are concerned. Chop it up with cabbage after draining, add one tablespoonful of butter, pepper and salt to taste and allow the cabbage to stand uncovered a few moments before serving if you want to taste new cabbage at its best.

To Steam Cloth and Velvet.

Here is an extremely ingenious plan for steaming velvet or like materials. The idea consists in providing a simple but effectual holder for the sadiron that is used in the operation. This obviates the necessity for the persons steaming the materials to hold the hot iron in the hand, as is the usual method, and, therefore, does away with the danger of scalding one's fingers.

IRON IN POSITION.

The picture shows a sadiron in position on one of these holders, which is about as simple in construction as it would be possible to make it.

The inventor describes it as a support for holding a sadiron for steaming velvet or the like, consisting of a base having a raised top plate provided with an elongated opening and serving as a rest for the handle of the sadiron to hold the iron in an inclined position.

Baked Fish.

Baked fish has far more flavor than boiled, though it does not look so nice. The fish should be placed on a greased tin, covered with buttered paper, and cooked in a moderate oven. The cook should be very careful in baking fish not to dry it up. Serve with a good white sauce poured over and garnished with chopped parsley, capers, lemon or hard boiled egg.

Scent Powder For Linen.

One ounce of coriander, one ounce of orris root, one ounce of rose leaves, one ounce of aromatic calamus, two ounces of lavender flowers, a quarter of a dram of rhodium wood, five grains of musk. Mix well together, reduce to coarse powder and place in muslin bags among linen. It scents deliciously.

Remedy For Poison Ivy.

Dissolve one teaspoonful of soda and one of borax in one pint of hot water. Apply once an hour to the face or parts affected as hot as it is possible to bear it. Those who are susceptible to the poison should try this remedy as soon as they are aware of having been in the neighborhood of the plant.

Silver Polish.

Melt one-half pound of castile soap; add one ounce of ammonia, one ounce of olive oil and one-half teaspoonful of alcohol; mix well and add five pounds of whiting or soapstone powder. Apply with a damp flannel cloth and polish with chamois.

Polish For Kid Boots.

Beat up the white of an egg with an equal quantity of water and a little sugar candy. If well made it is quite transparent and not in the least sticky. This is good for all fine leather, especially kid.

Stained Table Linen.

Try glycerin for removing stains of tea and coffee from table linen. Procure it of good quality and with it rub the affected parts, afterward washing the linen in the ordinary way.

An Awful Possibility.

An engineer makes the somewhat startling announcement to Philadelphians that that glory and pride of the City of Brotherly Love, city hall, is sinking perceptibly every year because of the quicksand on which its foundations rest. It is shocking to contemplate the possibility that in a short time the staid figure of Penn on the summit of the city hall will assume an attitude in consequence of this sinking that will plainly suggest a "won't go home till morning" experience.—New York Tribune.

New Road Treatment.

Instead of sprinkling streets at a cost of $400 a mile each season Los Angeles is now experimenting with a new oil treatment. The method is to tear up the surface of the street to the depth of about three inches. Then a mixture of hot oil and sand is applied, and the whole is tamped down to a smooth surface with a heavy steam roller. One treatment is expected to last for an entire season and after the first year is expected to cost less than sprinkling.

Pie.

"Pie, coffee and conversation," said Senator Platt of Connecticut, "are the three ingredients that constitute a good dinner."

"And the greatest of these is conversation," commented a companion.

"No; pie is the greatest," corrected the senator. "It excels conversation in that it always comes to you with a point to it."

ONE WOMAN AMONG THE THOUSANDS.

We received a letter from Waycross, Ga., from a woman who had been troubled with female complaint for a long time, until she was reduced to almost a shadow. It affected her mind, she could not remember anything, would get confused and so nervous and irritable she could hardly sleep. She described her case as one similar to thousands of other women, and then ends the letter by saying she had gained 18 pounds last month and never felt better in her life, having no trace of her former troubles, slept well and ate her meals with a relish. She commenced the use of Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic just six weeks before she wrote the letter from which we copy the above. This tonic is in tablet form, and should be taken right after meals. It turns the food you eat into strong, rich blood, feeding the nerves and curing disease by making healthy flesh. Sold by all druggists for 75c per box, or 3 boxes for $2. Pale, weak, thin people should use this Tonic. Sold by Lee P. Allcott.

A NOTRE DAME LADY

I will send free, with full instructions, some of this simple preparation for the cure of leucorrhoea, ulceration, displacements, falling of the womb, scanty or painful periods, tumors or growths, hot flashes, desire to cry, creeping feeling up the spine, pain in the back and all female troubles to all sending addresses. To mothers of suffering daughters I will explain a successful home treatment. If you decide to continue it will only cost about 12 cents a week to guarantee a cure. Tell other sufferers of it, that is all I ask. If you are interested write now and tell your suffering friends of it. Address Mrs. M. Summers, Box 405, Notre Dame, Ind.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

To Prevent Rolling In Stall.

A horse can be prevented from rolling in the stall by having a headstall with a ring in the top and the hitch rope attached overhead, says a correspondent of American Agriculturist. Hitch the rope in the ring so the horse's nose can just touch the floor. It will be impossible for him to roll, as he must get his head down on the side before he can commence to turn over. It will not prevent him from lying down and resting comfortably. Try it.

Land and Labor In Pennsylvania.

Farm land values in Pennsylvania, as officially stated for 1903, were as follows: Improved, $56.50 per acre; average, $39. Farm wages ranged as follows: By the year, with board, $187; summer months, $20; by the day, with board, $1; by the day, without board, $1.40; by the whole year, without board, $280; in harvest, by the day, $1.55; household help, female, with board, $2.35 a week.

Fattening Market Horses.

It is very important that horses intended for the city markets be well fattened. This can usually be done by feeding a mixture of coarse fodder, corn, oats and bran. By adding a little steamed grain with oil or linseed meal once a week the fattening process may be hurried along. Horses ought to gain from three to four pounds per day if properly fed.—American Agriculturist.

Hardy Angoras.

The ability of Angora goats to rough it is shown by the experience of N. D. Powers of Troy, N. Y., from whose herd of forty-one Angoras eight escaped to the mountains last fall and were supposed to have been lost. Last spring six of them were found in the mountain forests in good condition, having got a living by browsing on bark and twigs.

Concerning Crops.

If a crop isn't profitable abandon it or adopt new methods so as to make it pay.—Farm and Ranch.

VIOLENT ATTACK OF DIARRHOEA CURED BY CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA and DIARRHOEA REMEDY and PERHAPS A LIFE SAVED.

"A short time ago I was taken with a violent attack of diarrhoea and believe I would have died if I had not gotten relief," says John J. Patton, a leading citizen of Patton, Ala. "A friend recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I bought a 25 cent bottle and after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by all leading druggists.

A NEW PRINCIPLE IN MEDICAL SCIENCE.

For years it has been the practice of medical men to treat patients suffering from piles by local, external applications. These treatments give but temporary relief, but have never affected a positive cure.

After months of research and study, accompanied by actual experience with various patients, Dr. C. A. Perrin arrived at a positive conclusion as to the exact action of the various parts of the bowel system, under different conditions, and when subjected to various prescriptions.

He finally prepared that wonderful internal remedy known as DR. PERRIN'S PILE SPECIFIC, which is put up in bottles, retailing at all reliable drug stores for $1.00 each. This internal remedy has been on the market for the past ten years, and in all of that time there has been but three cases where a positive cure has not been effected.

Dr. Perrin's Pile Specific is sold under a positive guarantee by the druggist making the sale, to refund the full purchase price, providing the remedy fails to cure. This is the absolute proof of its merit. Any man or woman who suffers from blind, bleeding, itching or internal piles can try this internal remedy with the absolute certainty that it will cost nothing unless it cures. Here is what one sufferer says of this wonderful remedy:

Dr. C. A. Perrin, Helena, Mont.—I wish to thank you for the cure your wonderful medicine has done for me. I had the piles some five years, and under the advice of a doctor had them removed by the knife and felt free for awhile, but they returned and I at once got a bottle of your Perrin's Pile Specific and one bottle has entirely cured me, and I am as good as I ever was.

Yours truly,
JACK SULLIVAN,

MATHENY & LLOYD.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Wheat—Another exciting day, the market being broad and decidedly stronger. New September touched $1.10½, December $1.12½, May $1.14⅞. Most of the gain was maintained and the close was anywhere from 3c to 3¾@4½c higher than yesterday. The strong cables and renewed claims of serious damage northwest, extending into Manitoba, were main bullish influences. There was also some uneasiness over the political situation in the far east. Outside demand was general and for large quantities, and offerings, while liberal, were not sufficient to satisfy demand and prices advanced. Rains in northwest was also a factor. Selling was largely on profit-taking order and liquidation was heavy on the advance. Sharp advance at Minneapolis was one of the chief factors of the arly market.

Corn—To day ther ewas large trade and unsettled but weaker market, closing figures being 1c lower for September, while December was down ⅞@1c and May off ¾@⅞c. There was heavy and general selling at the start influenced by increased country acceptances and beneficial rains through the corn belt. Receiving and elevator interests were prominent on the selling side and long property came out freely on the break. Estimated acceptances from Iowa, Illinois, Kansas and Nebraska aggregated about 2,000,000 bushels on the opening. At the decline shorts accepted liberal quantities and wheat rallying sharply prices recovered about all early loss, but advance failed to hold.

Oats—Oats were prevented from breaking badly by advance in wheat. Prices move dwithin ½c range, closed ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher. Cash houses and longs were heavy sellers. Buying was scattered.

| | Receipts. | Shipments. |
|---|---|---|
| Flour, bbls | 21,000 | 14,000 |
| Wheat, bus | 164,000 | 61,000 |
| Corn, bus | 142,000 | 86,000 |
| Oats, bus | 326,000 | 231,000 |

LIVESTOCK.

Cattle—To day's receipts of 3,000 was a good Friday's supply and consisted chiefly of common and medium. Demand was better than it usually is so late in the week. Prices were unchanged, choice being very firm. There has been strong demand this week for good fat cattle and steers of desirable class have advanced about 25c, but lower grades show no change, being held down by large receipts from western ranges. Good to prime, $5.00@6.10; poor to medium, $3.55@5.00; stockers, $2.00@4.00; cows, $2.00@4.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 12,000. There was lively general demand at advances of 10@15c. Mixed and butchers', $5.10@5.40; good to choice heavy, $5.20@5.35; rough, $4.80@5.10; light, $4.50@4.60; bulk of sales, $5.05@5.40.

Sheep—Receipts, 6,000. There was fair trade at recent decline. General demand this week has been fairly active, but prices have weakened under enormous supplies from Idaho and other ranges, lambs showing biggest decline. Sheep, $3.25@4.25; lambs, $4.00@5.85.

ST. LOUIS MARKET.

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—Wheat—September, $1.09¼.

Corn—September, 52⅞c.

Oats—December, 35c.

LIVESTOCK.

Cattle—Receipts, 3,000. Market steady. Beef steers, $4.00@5.00; stockers and feeders, $2.60@4.50; cows and heifers, $2.55@4.30; Texas steers, $2.75@3.80.

Hogs—Receipts, 3,000. Market 10c higher. Range, 5$.10@5.45.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.

Liverpool, Aug. 19.—Corn—Spot firm; American mixed at 4s 10½d.

NEW YORK MARKET.

New York, Aug. 19.—Wheat—Receipts, 16,000 bu. Spot strong; No. 2 red, nominal elevator and $1.12⅝ f. o. b. afloat. Options 3¼c net higher; September at $1.11½@1.14⅞, closed at $1.13⅞.

Corn—Receipts, 117,000 bu; exports, 5,000. Spot easy; No. 2, 59½c elevator and 59¼c afloat; No. 2 yellow, 60¾c; No. 2 white, 59¼c. Options colsed weak at ⅞@1¼c net decline; September, 58¾c.

Oats—Receipts, 148,000 bu; exports, 10,000. Spot easy; mixed, 38½@39½c; white, 41@44½c; white clipped, $42½@45c.

FINANCIAL NEWS.

New York, Aug. 19.—A considerable falling off in speculative interest was noticeable about to day's stock market. The volume of dealings contracted and fluctuations in prices were narrower and more sluggish. Decline in activity reduced demand for stocks and resulted in heavy undertone without any marked pressure to sell. General action of the market was still much the same as for two previous days. Sustaining points of strength at opening proved insufficient to hold prices, but later dealings reflected an occasional rally of forces behind the market. Closing prices:

Money on call easy at @1 per cent; closing bid, ¾; offered at 1. Time loans steady; sixty days at 2; ninety days at 2½; st xmonths at 3½.

Prime paper at @4½.

Exchange strong. Demand at 488.10@488.15; sixty days at 485.40@485.45.

Bar silver at 58.

CONDENSED STORIES.

A Society Story Which Concerns a Cup of Tea.

A belated society tale goes backward to the season when Harry Lehr was courting the lady who is now his wife, says the New York Times.

One day Mrs. Dahlgren accidentally dropped a ten dollar bill into a tea urn which had just undergone inspection in anticipation of coming guests. When these guests arrived Mr. Lehr was among them. The hostess had forgotten her bank note in the urn and innocently brewed the tea. All noted the peculiar flavor, but drank it bravely. The cause of their secret mystification might have gone politely undiscovered had not the hostess proceeded to give a lecture on the subject of brewing tea. She removed the lid of the urn to illustrate her point and revealed no tea leaves, but a ten dollar bill. She was appalled. The urn and all the cups were sent away. She made profuse apologies and insisted upon serving each of her visitors with a fresh cup when the new supply appeared. When it came the turn of Mr. Lehr she asked:

"How will you have it? Strong?"

"Not quite so strong as the last," replied Mr. Lehr. "Make it about $9.75, please."

A Happy Quotation.

Senator Blackburn says that the most felicitous quotation apropos of any pending measure in the senate was uttered by the late Senator Vance of North Carolina.

A strong effort was being made in the senate to pass the Paddock pure food bill. Conger of Iowa, at present minister to China, had succeeded in getting the lard bill bearing his name through the house, but the southern senators had defeated it in the senate. Frequently, however, an effort would be made to get the provisions of the Conger bill attached to the Paddock bill as amendments. At a time when Senator Paddock had the floor to present the merits of his bill he was interrupted by another senator, who intimated that, inasmuch as the Conger lard bill had passed the house, it might be better to more carefully examine its provisions. At this juncture Senator Vance managed to secure recognition.

SENATOR VANCE AROSE FROM HIS SEAT.

"Mr. President," exclaimed he as he slowly arose from his seat, "the Conger lard bill is dead.

"'Tis Greece, but living Greece no more!"

No more was heard from the Conger people.

The Man In the Street.

Congressman W. Bourke Cockran amused some of his political friends at the Waldorf-Astoria a few nights ago by a story of the twelve-year-old son of a friend of his, an Englishman living in New York. The boy, like his father, was born in England, but had been going to school here for six years and in that time had studied his American history with a due amount of American patriotism.

A few evenings ago the boy was talking over the battles of the Revolution with his father and discussing the campaigns of the British. Finally, after a little thought, he astonished his father by blurting out:

"Well, pop, we licked you twice, anyway, didn't we?"—New York Times.

Lord Rosebery's Two Pleasures.

Lord Rosebery once said to me: "There are two supreme pleasures in a man's life. One is ideal, the other real. The ideal joy is when a man receives the seals of office at the hands of his sovereign; the real pleasure comes when he carries them back."—H. W. Lucy in London Magazine.

QUEER LEGAL BATTLE

Former Pike County Resident Supposed to Have Been Dead Thirty Years Found and Causes Complications.

The case of Rachel E. Billings, widow of Levi Billings, deceased, vs. Joseph Billings et al., the heirs of Levi Billings, now pending in the circuit court of Pike county, promises to be one of unusual interest, not only because of the facts in the case, but also because of the many legal points involved. The facts in the case are as follows:

Forty-seven years ago the complainant in the case married one Obediah Fry in the state of Indiana. They lived there seventeen years and eight children were born to their marriage. Thirty years ago Obediah Fry and wife moved to eastern Illinois, where Fry deserted his wife and came to this county. Mrs. Fry came soon after and as best she could supported their children.

About twenty-nine years ago Fry, who was in poor health, suffering from lung trouble, declared his intention of going west to the mountains, and that is the last time the complainant in this case ever heard, directly or indirectly, from her husband. After more than seven years elapsed complainant was advised that the law presumed Fry to be dead after being absent and unheard of for seven years. Had Mrs. Fry obtained a divorce at that time, to which she was lawfully entitled, she would have avoided even the possibility of the legality of her future marriages being questioned.

Acting on the advice of her attorney and without obtaining a divorce Mrs. Fry married James Brown, of Barry, who some time after their marriage was killed by his son-in-law.

About eight ears ago, several years after the tragic death of James Brown, Mrs. Brown married Levi Billings, of Derry township. She lived with Billings until his death about a year ago. Billings left quite an estate, consisting of 360 acres of land in Atlas and Derry townships, also considerable personal property.

This suit is for the purpose of having the homestead and dower of the widow of Levi Billings assigned. The complainant married Levi Billings in good faith, cared for and waited upon him during his long sickness and contributed in every way to make him happy and prosperous, and yet the defendants are attempting to defeat Mrs. Billings' claim to dower and homestead, and for that purpose have searched far and near for some trace of Obediah Fry.

They claim to have located Fry somewhere in California, and if that is true and Fry was not divorced before the marriage of Levi Billings and Rachel E. Billings, then the complainant is not the lawful widow of Levi Billings and is not entitled in law to a homestead and dower in the estate of Levi Billings.

The complainant's solicitors have filed a claim for their client, Rachel E. Billings, in the county court against the estate of Levi Billings for $2,000 for services rendered in good faith, and hope to save their client a competency for her declining years should her marriage to Levi Billings be invalidated by the fact that Obediah Fry is living and undivorced.

Williams, Williams & Grote represent the complainant, Rachel E. Billings, and Edwin Johnson, A. G. Crawford, George C. Weaver, Jefferson Orr, State's Attorney Jump of Pike county, Missouri, and ex-Gov. D. A. Ball of Missouri represent the defendants.—Pike County Democrat.

MATRIMONIAL

FLOYDS-DAVIS.

Al E. Floyds, of Shreveport, La., and Miss Mabel Davis, of Jacksonville, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, 428 South West street, at 8:30 o'clock Friday evening, in the presence of a few intimate friends, Rev. H. Lackey officiating. The bride wore a handsome Persian lawn and carried bride's roses.

They left on an early morning train for the west, where they will spend a month and return to their home in Shreveport.

DEATH RECORD

James Doolin died at the residence of B. R. Cox near the fair grounds Friday morning at 4 o'clock, after a lingering illness of several months' duration. The remains were taken to the residence of his brother, William Doolin, on Voorhees street.

Deceased was born in the vicinity of Woodson twenty-nine years ago, and made his home in this vicinity until four years ago, when he went to St. Louis. While employed in that city he was taken ill with malarial fever and was brought to this city about a month ago, since which time he has been cared for at the residence of B. R. Cox, where he passed away, the thoughtful ministrations of his brothers being of no avail.

He is survived by three brothers, John, of Blue Grass, Iowa, and William and Edward Doolin, of this city.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning.

SHAY.

Mrs. Margaret Shay died at the home of her son, Michael Shay, on East Lafayette avenue, Friday morning at 4 o'clock, aged 64 years.

Deceased was born in Ireland, but came to this country thirty-seven years ago, residing in Winchester until she came to this city two years ago, since which time she made her home with her son. Her husband, Michael Shay, died twenty-seven years ago.

She is survived by two sons, Michael, of this city, and John, of Winchester, and three daughters, Mrs. Mary Sullivan, of Jacksonville; Mrs. Johannah Wisdom, of Winchester, and Mrs. Kate Conley, of Murrayville.

The remains will be taken to Winchester for interment.

FUNERALS

HILL.

The funeral of John H. Hill was conducted from Westminster church Friday morning at 10 o'clock. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends present to honor in death a man held in the highest esteem during a long and useful life.

Dr. C. M. Brown, pastor of the church, had charge of the services, assisted by Dr. J. F. John, pastor of Trinity church, who offered an earnest and feeling prayer. Appropriate hymns were sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. Edward P. Kirby, Mrs. R. M. Hockenhull, John L. Johnson and R. M. Hockenhull.

Dr. Brown spoke of the strong character of Mr. Hill, a man who was unostentatious, yet whose influence was ever exerted in the cause of righteousness and whose manly life made him admired and esteemed by all who knew him. The remarks of Dr. Brown were peculiarly appropriate to the sad occasion and at their conclusion the remains were conveyed to Diamond Grove cemetery and there tenderly laid to rest.

The honorary bearers were elders and trustees of Westminster church, W. T. Brown, Ensley Moore, R. R. Stevenson, G. S. Russel, J. A. Ayers, Frank Elliott and J. G. Capps. The active bearers were E. E. Crabtree, H. C. Wadsworth, Walter Ayers, Frank Orear, Charles S. Rannells and John R. Robertson.

There were many very beautiful floral offerings and these were cared for by Mrs. Walter Ayers, Mrs. C. M. Duer, Mrs. H. M. Havenhill and Mrs. T. B. Orear.

HOFFMAN.

The funeral of John W. Hoffman was conducted Friday afternoon. Short services were held at the residence at 1:30 in charge of Rev. H. Hallerberg and at 2 o'clock a more extended service was held at the Salem Evangelical Lutheran church, of which the deceased was for so long a time a member, and for which organization he ever maintained the most earnest interest.

The services at the church were in charge of Rev. Mr. Bergen, a former pastor, who knew Mr. Hoffman intimately and was a lifelong friend. He spoke with tender feeling and his words were full of comfort for the bereaved family and friends.

There was a great quantity of flowers banked around the casket, which bore silent testimony to the love and affection with which Mr. Hoffman was regarded. These tokens were cared for by Misses Walker, Brune, Ohler and Schultz.

At the conclusion of the services at the church the remains were borne to Jacksonville cemetery, where the interment took place. The bearers were E. B. Walker, P. Schultz, Edward Beck, E. Ohler, C. H. Widmayer and Charles Steer.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral of Miss Jennie Rearick will be held at the residence of Mrs. McDonald, 414 West State street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

POLICE NEWS.

William Grogan was arrested by Policeman Preston for using abusive language.

William Crawford was taken in by Special Policeman William Boland for drunkenness.

William Ealey was arrested by Special Policeman Landreth for being drunk.

PARK DEDICATION

FORMAL OPENING THURSDAY AUGUST 25.

Fine Program Arranged—Burgoo Soup—Concerts by Juvenile Band and Mallory Bros. Afternoon and Evening—Other Features.

The park board held a meeting Friday evening and completed arrangements for the opening of Nichols park, Thursday, Aug. 25. The work of preparation will be pushed rapidly forward and everything possible will be done to make it one of the grandest occasions in the history of the city. Competent committees of men best adapted for their duties have been apopinted and will give liberally of their time and services toward making the opening a gala day.

There will be a big burgoo soup dinner at 11 o'clock, and the afternoon and evening will be given over to sports. The profits from all concessions will be reserved by the park board and will be used for the benefit of the park. A formal program will be arranged for the afternoon and evening. Four or five addresses will be made and Jeffries' band and Mallory Bros. have donated their services and will give short concert programs in the afternoon and evening.

In the way of sports, there will be a ball game between Buckhorn and Jacksonville and the Jacksonville Gun club will hold a shoot. These events will both be of great interest and will add zest to the pleasures of the day.

The business men will be urged to close their stores in the afternoon so that none may be barred from taking part in the celebration. It is to be in the largest sense of the word a public occasion and every citizen should take advantage of the opportunity to attend.

Isaac Watson, the celebrated burgoo soup maker, will have charge of that feature of the arrangements. Edward Whitmer will be chairman of the committee on concessions and Joh the committee on concessions and John J. Reeve heads the committee on general arrangements. The men who have the matter in charge are not the kind to let the grass grow under their feet, and there is not the least doubt but that all the details of the great occasion will be perfectly arranged.

WILL GIVE RECEPTION.

Judge Charles A. Barnes will be tendered a reception by the members of Knights of Pythias lodge No. 152, of this city, of which he is a member. Action relative to holding the reception was taken Friday evening and preparations will be made as soon as word can be received from Judge Barnes as to the time of his return home. It is indeed fitting that such a reception should be held, as the office to which he has been elected is the next highest in the order and means his eventual succession to the highest office, that of supreme chancellor.

AT THE GRAND.

"The Convict's Daughter" was staged at the Grand Friday night before a top heavy house. The play was of the thrilling melodramatic style in five acts. The title role was acceptably interpreted by Miss Clara Louise Chapman. Frank Beal was well received as the convict.

TAKEN WITH CRAMPS.

William Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Elkader (Iowa) Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save a life. For sale by all leading druggists.
